

United States

The American Clock: A Comprehensive Pictorial Survey, 1723-1900, Distin, William H., and Robert Bishop, New York: E.P. Dutton and Co., 1976.

Two Hundred Years of American Clocks and Watches, Bailey, Chris H.,

Englewood Cliffs, NJ: Prentice-Hall, Inc., A Rutledge Book, 1975.

The Book of American Clocks, Palmer, Brooks. New York: The Macmillan

Co., 1950.

A Treasury of American Clocks. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1967.

The Complete Checklist of American Clock and Watchmakers 1640-1950, Edwards, John.; Stratford, CT: New England Publishing Co., 1977.

Contains a list of more than 4,000 American clock and watch makers listing the places at which they were working and approximate dates.

Cincinnati Silversmiths, Jewelers, Watch & Clockmakers, Beckman, Elizabeth D., Cincinnati: B.B. and Co., 1975.

Connecticut Clock Technology of Joseph Ives 1810-1862, Roberts, Kenneth D. . Bristol, CT: American Clock and Watch Museum, 1970.

Eli Terry and the Connecticut Shelf Clock. Bristol, CT: K. Roberts Publishing Co., 1973.

Connecticut Clockmakers of the 18th Century, Hoopes, Penrose R. . New York: Dodd, Mead and Co., 1930.

Clockmakers of the Concord, Massachusetts Community, National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors Supplement #5., Columbia, PA:

National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors, Inc., 1967

New Hampshire Clocks and Clockmakers, Parsons, Charles S. . Exeter,

NH: Adams Brown Co., 1976. 356pp. Illustrated by over 550 B&W illustrations

Clocks and Watches of New Jersey, Drost, William E. Elizabeth, NJ: Engineering Publishers, 1966. 291 p. Profusely illustrated. Cloth. The standard reference work on the subject, and the only book devoted exclusively to New Jersey clocks. Contains an alphabetical biographical directory of clock- and watchmakers, superb photographs of both cases and

Antique Clocks Bibliographic Resources by Category Página 4 de 6

<http://www.antiqueclockspriceguide.com/biblio.php> 14/11/2008

works, and considerable other information.

Pennsylvania Clocks and Clockmakers: An Epic of Early American Science, Industry, and Craftsmanship, Eckhardt, George H., New York,

NY U.S.A.: Bonanza Books, 1955; 229 pages; b & w illustrations; gives a detailed account of Pennsylvania tall case clocks and their European antecedents. It tells of their makers, who included Benjamin Franklin and Matthias Baldwin (of locomotive fame), and of the part of clocks played in the development of Pennsylvania. The book contains rare information on clock music, on the theory of clocks and their operation; on identification, appraisal, repair, and restoration; on Pennsylvania watches and watch papers. A most valuable feature is the annotated list of all known watch-and clockmakers in Philadelphia and in Pennsylvania general.

Clockmakers of Lancaster County [PA] and Their Clocks 1750-1850, Wood, Stacy B.C. and Stephen E. Kramer III. New York: Van Nostrand

Reinhold, 1977. 224pp. Full page illustrations of clocks, clock faces, clock movements, and copies of original ads for clocks. A study of the clockmakers of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and their work, including the cases, the dials, and the movements. Illustrated by B&w photos and illustrations.

Chester County [PA] Clocks and Their Makers, James, Arthur Edwin,

West Chester, PA: Schiffer Publishing, Ltd. 1997. First published in 1947 and still recognized as the most authoritative text on the subject. Includes valuable information on every clockmaker known to have been working in Chester County before 1840.

Shaker Clockmakers. Gibbs, James W. & Robert W. Meador; Columbia,

Pennsylvania: National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors.
Supplement

to the Bulletin of the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors, No.

7 (Summer, 1972). B/w illustrations. 32 pp.

Vermont Clock and Watchmakers, Silversmiths, and Jewelers 1788-